Key dates: June 2014

I'm an Engineer Get me out of here

What do you have to do?

☐ Respond to live chat invitations – From Monday 19th May onwards

☐ Fill in your profile – By Monday 2nd June

☐ Test live chats in the staffroom – Thursday 12th June, 3-4 pm

Answer questions on the website

Have live chats with students

} Monday 16th - Friday 27th June

Key dates

Monday 2nd June - Site goes live for students
Please put your profile up as soon as you can. This gives teachers time to introduce the event and do background work. Use this time to play around with the site and see how it works. We will send you a "test" question to make sure everything is working for you.

Thursday 12th June, 3-4 pm - Drop-in session
We'll have a drop-in session in the 'staffroom' chatroom so come along and say hi! This is also a great chance to meet each other, meet teachers taking part, ask any questions, and familiarise yourself with the chatroom set up.

Monday 16th June - Event begins
It may be quite quiet for the first couple of days while students log in, but be ready for a rush of questions. We will notify you by email of the live chat sessions booked by teachers. Please respond to say whether you will participate in each live chat.

Tuesday 24th June - First eviction
When polls close the engineer with the FEWEST votes will be evicted. You will be notified by email of the result, good luck! There will be evictions every day for the rest of the week. Engineers will be emailed, and evictions will be announced on the site at 3pm each day, so that it's before the end of the school day. Evicted engineers will still be able to update their profile and take part in live chats if they want to.

Friday 27th June, 3pm - The final result
The polls close for a final time and we announce the winner in each zone of I'm an Engineer, Get me out of Here!